

Michael J. Coren

San Francisco, CA | 202-455-8735 | michaeljcoren@gmail.com

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- deputy editor, climate and technology, Quartz, San Francisco, CA Mar. 2021 – Present
- manage a team of reporters covering climate, technology, and infrastructure;
 - led a Pulitzer Center-backed investigation leading to a Congressional hearing on how led aviation fuel is poisoning a new generation of Americans;
 - publish the independent climate solutions newsletter Hothouse syndicated in national publications
- senior reporter, climate, Quartz, San Francisco, CA Nov. 2019 – Mar 2021
- covered energy, climate, transportation, policy, and business;
 - recorded highest readership and engaged time among reporters in the newsroom (2020)
- reporter, technology, Quartz, San Francisco, CA Mar. 2016 – Nov. 2019
- covered startups, Silicon Valley, Tesla, and emerging industries
- co-founder and CEO, Publet, San Francisco, CA July 2013 – Feb. 2016
- founded venture-backed digital publishing company; led team of engineers and designers;
 - customers included Center for Investigative Reporting, Ford, Ogilvy, Orange telecom, and others
- freelance reporter, online, print, and radio outlets; US and overseas July 2008 – Feb. 2013
- reported internationally for VOA (radio), The Economist, Foreign Policy, FastCompany, Newsweek
- climate researcher, Climate Focus, Washington, DC Mar. 2008 – May 2011
- designed climate policy and natural carbon projects for the UK, World Bank, and private sector
- science producer, CNN.com, Atlanta, GA Apr. 2005 – May 2006
- led science & environment coverage for CNN.com; produced online network's first climate series
- managing editor, reporter; The Phnom Penh Post, Phnom Penh, Cambodia Aug. 2002 – Dec. 2004
- reported and then led newsroom of Khmer and international journalists. Produced features, politics, and investigative reporting. Member of first Luce Scholar class in Cambodia

EDUCATION

- Yale University, New Haven, CT Master of Environmental Science (environmental economics)
- Emory University, Atlanta, GA Bachelor of Science (environmental studies & journalism)
- SEA Education, Woods Hole, MA sailing practicum

AWARDS

Pulitzer Center grant awardee • Solutions Journalism Network fellow and grantee • Oxford Climate Journalism Fellow (2022) • MIT Knight Science Journalism Fellow (climate science) • Henry Luce Scholar • Udall Scholar • Fred Krupp Scholarship in Environmental Studies (Yale University)

SKILLS

writing, editing, reporting, interviewing; statistical analysis, data visualization, public records research, radio production, economics and ecology research, entrepreneurship, Spanish (working proficiency)